Introduction

One of the 7 criteria of excellence when Yogyakarta was designated as the Batik City of the World by the World Craft Council in 2014 is Economic Value.

The Fifth International E-Public Forum is part of the 2021 International Online Summer Course on Jogja World Batik City and focuses on "Heritage Economy in Promoting SDGs". This forum aims to discuss the creation, innovation and the making of economic not only for the craft mainly, individual buildings, neither the few, but more to the crafts and its artisans, and heritage environment as a whole and the many in communities. It will highlight batik as heritage economy as a resource for inclusive and sustainable local and regional economic development (SDGs No.8).

The final goals of the Summer Course is to promote the balancing creative economy and heritage saujana conservation strategies to foster Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) on Jogja World Batik City.
