OPEN FOR GENERAL PUBLIC

Introduction

On 30 September 2009, in a session in Abu Dhabi, Batik Indonesia was declared by UNESCO as Masterpieces of Oral and Intangible Heritage of Humanity. As a form of gratitude and to encourage the conservation and development of national batik, the Government of the Republic of Indonesia, through Presidential Decree no. 33 of 2009, designated October 2nd as the National Batik Day. On October 18, 2014, in Donyang City, Zhejiang Province, China, Yogyakarta was designated as World Batik City by the World Craft Council.

The Fourth International E-Public Forum is part of the 2021 International Online Summer Course on Jogja World Batik City and focuses on “the Intangible Culture Heritage (ICH) and Sustainable Development”. Not to mentioned, ICH, including batik, will contribute to the sustainable development. This forum, therefore, aims to explore the holistic strategies on the promotion and implementation of the role of ICH in sustainable development in context to its culture and natural environment.

The final goals of the Summer Course is to promote the balancing creative economy and heritage saujana conservation strategies to foster Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) on Jogja World Batik City
